THE START OF A NEW ERA

JANOSH

As 2012 approaches, many claim there are messages here on Earth that hold the keys to transformative spirituality and consciousness. Crop circles, some claim, may contain messages about the coming era of 2012. In the following essay, Janosh, an internationally acclaimed artist, decodes some of the messages that he believes will help us prepare for the coming era. He answers questions like, What do the crop circles really mean? Who makes the majority of complex, inexplicable crop circles? What do crop circles have to do with 2012?

The year 2012 has long been of special interest to many. This date is fast approaching, and, according to the Maya, we will leave the world of the fourth Sun and enter the world of the fifth Sun. Mayan prophecies indicate this date will mark a time for change, harmony, and rebirth. Today, 2012 represents a transition into a new era, if we only pay attention and open up to it in both visible and invisible ways. By doing so, we will understand what is happening and why it is happening. We will be able to stimulate and awaken our subconscious and participate in creating the new reality that is to come. There are many ways to facilitate this change. For this period to come, I have found that I can help others—through my art—transition their subconscious. I will share this with you, but first, let's talk about this new era that is upon us.

PERIOD OF TRANSITION

Many have questions as to what the transition from the fourth world into this fifth world will mean. Guatemalan researcher, historian, and anthropologist Carlos Barrios, who spent 25 years studying the Mayan calendar system, speaks of the period leading up to 2012: “We are no longer in the World of the Fourth Sun, but we are not yet in the World of the Fifth Sun. This is the time in-between, the time of transition. As we pass through transition there is a colossal, global convergence of environmental destruction, social chaos, war, and ongoing Earth changes. All this was foreseen via the simple, spiral mathematics of the Mayan calendars. Everything will change.” Barrios, among many other experts, predicts that December 21, 2012, will be the start of a new era, resulting from the solar meridian crossing the galactic equator and the Earth aligning itself with the center of the galaxy.

RETURN OF CONSCIOUSNESS

According to Guatemalan Maya Elders of the Eagle Clan, this fifth cycle will be one of wisdom, harmony, peace, love, consciousness, and return of natural order. They also agree that it will not be the end of the world as some may fear.

The first cycle was a feminine energy and its element was fire. The second cycle was of masculine energy and its element was earth. The third cycle was a feminine energy and its element was air. The fourth cycle is a masculine energy and its element is water. The fifth cycle will be a fusion of both feminine and masculine energies. It will be a transition where there won't be any more confrontations between the polarities. It will bring balance, and there won't be hierarchy of one over the other. Both energies will support each other. It is why this period is called one of harmony, the kingdom of love and the return of consciousness. Its element will be the ether.

Based upon the Maya's knowledge of the universe (a knowledge that is still stored inside our subconscious minds yet forgotten and no longer used by Westerners today), we should not fear what is about to happen in a few years time. Instead, we should trust their ancient wisdom and look forward to this transition into a new world, a new dimension.

Many are curious to know what this return of consciousness means and how it will become apparent to us. From the Mayan predictions that date back centuries, it seems a rather big leap to our everyday lives in the here and now. Yet, the same information on this aforementioned transition in 2012 is, in fact, all around us. This leap is actually not quite as big as one might think. The ancient knowledge of the Maya has been with us all along, stored deep down in our subconscious minds. To bring this knowledge back to the surface in order to prepare us for major changes that will come our way, we are merely being reminded of it now by other sources. These sources are all around us to guide us toward the evolution of 2012. Their information will manifest itself to everyone when we pay attention to what is happening in both our visible and invisible reality. This information is accessible to everyone who opens up to the energies that come from another dimension. Now, let me tell you how I came to know some beings from another dimension: the Arcturians.

THE ARCTURIANS ON 2012

Several days after the Harmonic Concordance of 2003 (when a lunar eclipse occurred in which five planets formed a Star of David), I experienced a visit from the Arcturians. The Arcturians are multidimensional beings who live in a dimension parallel to our reality. They are benevolent ultraterrestrial beings who can converse with our intuitive senses, rather than being physically seen or heard. During their visit, I saw many beautiful colors in geometric shapes.

Inspired by the Arcturians' messages, I began developing art that resembled the images I received in my mind's eye. After posting the art on my Web site, I learned from those who saw it that, unknowingly, I had created art that replicated crop circles.

Like the Maya, the Arcturians have inherent, ageless messages to pass on to us. One of the main ways they communicate with us is through crop circles. This is also how they pass on the keys to help us toward a return of consciousness that is coming in 2012.

The Arcturians are responsible for the appearance of the majority of crop circles all over the world. As shown indisputably by well-known researchers Freddy Silva, Robert Boerman, and the BLT Research Team, Inc., many of the more complicated crop circles could not possibly be human-made. Scientist Paul Vigay, in particular, has encountered many aspects of strange and anomalous phenomena. He was one of the discoverers of unexplainable electromagnetic effects in and around crop circles.

The Arcturian circle makers leave information for us that will enhance the growth of our consciousness leading up to the transition in 2012. Their wisdom is encoded in these mystical, yet perfect, geometric shapes and forms. Every year, magnificent circle formations appear around the world in places where Ley lines cross. Ley lines, or Leys, are alignments of ancient sites across the Earth. These areas breathe extremely powerful energy.

The geometry found in crop circles is often called "sacred geometry," otherwise known as the ageless patterns and shapes that appear naturally throughout the universe. Ancient traditions like those of the Maya, Egyptians, and Native Americans, among others, recognized these forms and even discovered the numerical and supernatural significance of sacred geometry. These civilizations modeled temples and structures to resemble these sacred geometric patterns. Sacred geometry is innately part of the cosmos; all living creatures consist of geometrically shaped elements, even down to the cellular level. In this sense, sacred geometry is the most universal language that Earth has ever known. The geometric patterns within crop circles resonate within our subconscious, and our subconscious recognizes the messages, even if our five senses do not.

The purpose of the Arcturians' "supernatural" communication through crop circles is to guide humankind in its evolution to a higher level of consciousness. By using the energy, ancient symbols, codes, and holographic blueprints apparent in the crop circles, the Arcturians help prepare us both consciously and subconsciously for new times ahead, and especially for 2012.

THE HIDDEN CODES IN CROP CIRCLES

Over the past few years, crop circles have become much more subtle and complex. The reason for this is the expansion and growth of humankind's consciousness. As 2012 approaches, humans are slowly but surely opening their minds to the knowledge that is stored within these formations. While watching these sacred geometric forms and tuning into the energy present within the formations, our consciousness grows. The more complex the circles become, the more our consciousness is stimulated to grow. The information within the circles finds a way to reach our subconscious minds, even if we are not physically aware of it. If we remain open to this, we will develop our higher purposes in a variety of ways: physically, mentally, emotionally, and spiritually.

In a truly wonderful way, we are being guided to communicate with other forms of life that exist parallel to our own. The shapes and figures of the formations contain information about their origin. We are not yet capable of decoding all of this information with our brain or analytical thinking methods. As humans, we are quite visually focused. This can be a disadvantage, since comprehending the information coming from the crop circles is more easily understood and absorbed subconsciously, rather than by relying solely on our eyes and ears. Simply by focusing on the center of a formation, the information hidden in its code will be stored in our subconscious minds. They will help us to release pain, pressure, doubt, fear, and grief. The energy within resonates with our own geometric blueprint and seeks to heal pain we may have or may face. It is important to realize that crop circles are here to reflect the extraordinary beauty and wisdom present in every human being. They will help us and guide us in fully understanding all aspects of creation.

DECODING THE MESSAGES

I help others experience the extraordinary information in the Arcturian messages through my art. My art emulates the shapes of these crop circles. I give visual presentations around the world and show my art to an open, willing audience. Amazingly, many people have found the messages to have a transformative effect on their lives, and this will allow them to prepare for the coming changes in 2012.

Through these designs, I pass on what these crop circles signify with their sacred geometry. As seen in Figures 26 and 27, surrender and empowerment are the messages the Arcturians have passed on to me. I have translated 45 keys, or messages, like these. They can be seen through my art on my Web site, www.the-arcturians.com, and some may be seen in my book and kit, Sacred Geometry: Unlock Your Potential with the Keys of the Arcturians.

EXPANSION OF CONSCIOUSNESS

December 21, 2012, is fast approaching. According to the Arcturians, on this date the transition to the fifth dimension of our evolution will begin: the transition to a new Earth, a new harmony.

Time is accelerating toward 2012. As this happens, we are learning to understand what creation means and what our own active part in it is. We are all capable of creating our own reality, our own path in life. We are contributing to creating this reality by our words, thoughts, and actions—all of which carry their own energy. Because we are capable of creating our own reality, we should be aware of where our thoughts are taking us. For starters, in order to create and manifest from the heart, we should clean up the old habits and patterns that keep holding us back. Only then will there be room for pure creation.

You must ask yourself if you will take ownership of your responsibility to create your own future. This is a time for action, when all humans are partly responsible for creating the transition into our new reality in 2012. We are doing so by our own words and thoughts. Are we choosing drama, or are we choosing challenges? That is entirely up to us.

SACRED GEOMETRY AND THE HOLY GRAIL

Humankind and mother Earth are on the eve of a massive evolution. In 2012, the Age of Aquarius will commence; the Age of Pisces will pass. By expanding our consciousness and becoming more aware, we will view reality in a different way in years to come. You may have noticed that you feel trapped, stressed, and unhappy more often than before. Influences such as our past, work, and relationships slow down our development and cause us emotional and spiritual blockage. More often we think about our purpose, our goal on Earth: why are we here, and where are we going?

Around 2012, many will find their answers. The power of sacred geometry will help us understand what is going on and guide us subconsciously toward the future; a future where we will become one. This oneness is reflected in the strong connection between the power of geometry on our subconscious minds and the quest for the holy grail. When I refer to the holy grail, I refer to our quest for the ultimate mystery behind our existence, the remembrance of who we are and where we come from. This is what we all desire to know.

Sacred geometry can lead us to our own personal holy grail, if only we open our trust. Sacred geometry is not only to be found in crop circles, but in everything else around us and even inside of us. From the alignment of the stars and ancient architectural structures to every cell in our body and even our heartbeat, geometry is everywhere. The universe, the Earth, and everything living are created according to the golden ratio, the ultimate geometric proportion of divine perfection. By surrendering our stubborn reluctance, admitting that some things cannot be seen, heard, or touched, and that ultimate truth or higher consciousness only occurs when we let go of material reality, we entrust ourselves to the power of sacred geometry. Crop circles are not the only things that carry this meaning. Everything in the natural universe is singing this message of truth. If you look closely, you will see it, in trees, flowers, and your own body.

This universal geometry resonates with our subconscious and has a healing effect on everyone who opens up to this knowledge that is already stored inside us. It is the blueprint of our creation. It makes us who we are, our true selves. This is what connects us to the search for the holy grail. The vital magic of this legend is in fact the ultimate quest for the mystery of who we are. We don't view things as they are, we view things as we are. We are indeed powerful beyond measure. It is this power, combined with our own inner wisdom, that is capable of flowing smoothly into the new era of 2012 that is soon to come.
